

BLUE CLOUD

Art Productions

SEPTEMBER 2026 FALL EQUINOX

soft, still flutter of a leaf crackle of dry crisp air lightly blows smells of earthy fungi as the earth decomposes we turn a new leaf transition into quiet contemplation this is when I hear God most softly, most gently.
leslie c. moore

photo by Susan Meacham Yuba City Sunrise

Rest in the grace of the world

Sleep under pine trees

Held by water

In a kayak

In a pool

In a lake

To walk under Redwood trees, to breathe deeply , feel the ground beneath my feet

Gaze at the clouds, admire the shapes, the colors ,
the sky

Gaze at the moon, the evening star

Wonder at the gift of sleep

The gift of connecting with another

The gift of being alone, feeling the quiet beat of my heart

Peace

Grace

Ruth Kittel 9/10/2026

Response to Wendell Berry's "The Peace of Wild Things"

Our Lady

Hail Mother Mary
Her Grace Shines on Thee
The Light of Devotion Radiates to Us Wide Open
Her Emblazoned Heart Embodies Faith and Joy
In God's Grace
Blessed Mother of Jesus
The Salvation for All Humanity
With Everlasting Love

Kelana Anderson

Amen

The Word

Reading The Word

In her cozy corner

Snuggled up in her favorite overstuffed chair

A quiet moment

To reflect and pray

Learn the Scripture

How she can walk

The talk of The Word

In all aspects of her life

A tall order

She aspires to be that spiritual warrior

Kelana Anderson

By LUCY E.

by, Lucy Erwin

Within Me is A Garden

Within me an orchard of abundance Waiting to spring forth In exploding shades of golden orange and green overflowing tendrils of gentle fern

My hands in the dirt feeling the soft ground ness of earth

I place stones methodically giving balance to my space Here is where time slips away Peace flows like a river

Enveloped in wildness Within me and out of me We connect my garden and I

I hold my plants hands
And they grab hold of me Taking me into depths of abundant landscape
Leslie C. Moore

Sisters Of The Living-Spring Monastery

surrounded by the last stars before dawn and hills cloistered in fog under the gold leaf dome in front of the icon screen still shadows straight as candles lift their faces to reflect light from votive flames prostrate in one smooth motion bend knee touch head to ground again bend kneel touch head to ground again Criste again Eleison again Kyrie again Eleison

Joan Goodreau

Stewardship Offertory:
"Jesus paid it all"

Bulletin Bloopers

Compiled by John Yarrington

Contributed by Nancy Thompson

The choir invites any member who enjoys sinning to join the choir

As we head into Fall let us unite in Christ by giving thanks and communion:

Matthew 26: 26-29

Take, eat;
this is my body. Drink of it, all of you, for this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins.

Dave Hoppe ism...

The new covenant can only be realized on earth, as it always is in Heaven through our own responsible and intentional acts of love and forgiveness

Creative Director – Zinester: Leslie Moore

Managing Director: Pastor Jesse Kearns

Logo Design: Leslie Moore

Digital Team: Leslie Moore, Connor Kearns and Briony Gniechwitz

Layout Team: Leslie Moore, Connor Kearns

Copy Editors: Jean McKay, Leslie Moore, Connor Kearns, Briony Gniechwitz

Curation: Leslie Moore

Funded by First Christian Church Chico

Submit your own faith-based Art or Literary work

Contact Blue Cloud Arts Production Zinester:

leslie moore Lmooreleslie@gmail.com

Cell: 707-529-3195

©Leslie Moore for First Christian Church www.fccchico.com